HIST 490: History, Religion and Politics of Jerusalem and Cairo

Professor: Dr. Richard Cahill

Email: richard_cahill@berea.edu

Instructor's office hours: on site and by appointment

Syllabus subject to change

Required Texts:

* Readings (A collection of articles and documents tailored for this course. 235 pages)

Course Description:

An introduction to the history, religious heritages and politics of Jerusalem and Cairo. This course provides an introduction to the teachings and practice of Judaism, Islam, and Christianity in historical and contemporary political context. Basic doctrine and ritual will be covered for each of these three religions. Special attention will be given to the historical development of religious traditions that are still alive today in the places that we will visit. The rich remains of religious architecture and art will be studied, from the Western Wall, to the Church of Holy Sepulcher in Jerusalem, to the medieval mosques in Cairo. Additionally, students will be exposed to the diversity of cultural and religious expressions in Jerusalem and Cairo, from a Shabbat service, to a Coptic mass, to a Sufi dikhr. Local experts in both location will provide additional insights.

Overall KIIS Program Student Learning Outcomes:

KIIS Study Abroad Mission Statement:

KIIS provides high-quality education abroad programs for students from all diverse backgrounds that promote deep international learning, are integrated into the curriculum, and encourage critical and creative thinking. Our goal is to help students understand the wider world and develop personal and professional skills for lifelong enrichment. We strive to go beyond generalizations and cultural stereotypes to help foster a nuanced appreciation of the world in which we live.

Students participating on KIIS study abroad programs aim to:

- 1) Understand contemporary issues of their host country/countries (i.e. KIIS program location).
- 2) Develop skills to interact comfortably in a global setting.
- 3) Understand other cultures.

Prior to your KIIS study abroad program, and again at the conclusion of your program, KIIS will ask each student to a) answer a few multiple-choice questions, and b) write a short reflective essay (two paragraphs in length) related to the elements detailed above. There is no right or wrong answer, and your responses will not affect your grade in any way. The purpose of the exercise is to help KIIS measure the effectiveness of its study abroad programs.

Course Objectives:

1. To learn about the religions of Judaism, Islam and Christianity in their historic and political context, including, the basic contours of history (the "religious memory" of each religion)
2. To gain an understanding of how these religions have been and continue to be expressed in art, craft, architecture, rituals, and politics.
3. To better understand contemporary Jerusalem and Cairo, particularly how competing visions (informed by religious views) seek to address fundamental questions about human nature, the role of the State, the status of women and other human experiences.
4. To be able to articulate the foundational issues in the Arab-Israeli Conflict, and critically consider the claims (religious and otherwise) of the various parties to the Conflict.
5. To gain cross-cultural competences, to reflect on how one best engages with a host culture, to think critically about cross-cultural connections, and to develop tolerance of values across cultures.

Course Components:Readings:

You will be assigned readings in books listed above. You will also be asked to read portions of primary sources (i.e. the Qur'an). These may seem strange or difficult to understand and might require special patience. Do not try to speed read these primary sources. Reading quizzes will cover whatever is due on the given day. While traveling, you will be reading articles from your Readings binder; these will inform your experience, and you will be asked to discuss them in your journals.

Reflection Journals:

An essential part of your learning experience is your own reflection. While small- and full-group discussions will be useful ways for you to reflect, an important venue will be your Reflection Journal. Often during this course, you will be prompted to reflect on a certain experience, thus providing you the opportunity for sustained reflection. At the end of the course, you will be asked to write an elaborate and thorough essay (of at least 1200 words), providing a synthesis of things you have learned during the course as a whole.

Experiential and interactive learning:

Often during this course you will be asked to experience something specific. For example, you will be instructed how to politely and unobtrusively visit a local mosque at prayer time. In addition to learning proper etiquette, you will be given guidelines for how to make the most of participant observation. At other times, you will be asked to have some short conversations with a few locals concerning a certain subject that will give you new insights into local culture. You may be asked to attend religious or cultural events (concert, dance show, etc.) and reflect on them.

Research Project and Oral Presentation:

Approximately four weeks prior to departure, you will be assigned a religious and/or historical site that we will be visiting during the study-tour. You will do research into the origin, history, and significance of the site and prepare a 7-minute oral presentation. You should use at least two scholarly sources. Notes for your presentation should be made on 5"x7" index cards. You should print out a bibliography of the sources you used for your research. Examples of sites that will be assigned are: The Mosque of Ibn Tulun in Cairo, St. James Armenian Orthodox Cathedral in Jerusalem, the Ben Ezra Synagogue in Cairo. When we visit “your” site on the study-tour, you will present to the rest of the group. You will turn in your index cards and your bibliography.

Examination:

There will be a comprehensive examination at the end of the study-tour. It will consist of multiple choice, matching, and essay questions.

Language:

This is not a language class. But in order to better engage with your host cultures, you will be asked to learn a few basic phrases in Hebrew and Arabic. You will be learning a few words per day. Each word you learn will help to improve your interaction with your host culture. You will be quizzed on the phrase/s or words for the day.

Lectures, briefings, tours, and discussions:

Much of this course depends on successful appropriation of information given during the study-tour. Sometimes this will be a briefing with a Muslim scholar or spokesperson; sometimes this will be with an academic tour-guide. All of this information will be represented on your final examination.

Grading:

Quizzes	10%
Reflection Journal	40%
Research and Presentation	10%
Final Exam	30%
Participation	10%
Total	<hr/> 100%

Attendance Policy

KIIS program participants are expected to be punctual to and in attendance at all classes, presentations, meetings and required excursions, and to remain with the program for the full academic period. Unexcused absences from classes and/or mandatory meetings will result in a lowering of the student's final grade, as will excessive tardiness. Multiple unexcused absences could result in expulsion from the program. Any absence from an academic class session must be excused for medical reasons.

Disability Accommodation:

KIIS will make every reasonable effort to provide accommodations for program participants with special needs or disabilities, but we cannot guarantee that we will be able to do so. Be aware that many foreign countries do not have comprehensive legislation comparable to the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). As a result, businesses and other establishments operating in foreign countries may not be able to provide accommodations.

If you have a disability accommodation need, we recommend you contact your KIIS Campus Representative, <https://www.kiis.org/about-kiis/contact-us/campus-representatives/> early in your program selection process so that s/he has time to discuss any specific needs, including which KIIS programs may be best suited. You also are welcome to contact KIIS Assistant Director, Maria Canning, maria.canning@wku.edu, to discuss your disability accommodation needs (e.g. housing, transportation, excursions, class schedule, etc.).

Immediately after acceptance, notify KIIS Assistant Director, Maria Canning, or KIIS Admissions and Enrollment Specialist, Haley McTaggart, haley.mctaggart@wku.edu, if you have a special need or disability that might require any form of accommodation abroad. Failure to notify KIIS may prevent you from participating on your KIIS program.

If you require any accommodations abroad, you must provide KIIS Assistant Director, Maria Canning, or KIIS Admissions and Enrollment Specialist, Haley McTaggart, an accommodation letter from your home campus' disability accommodation office that lists the accommodations you are eligible to receive. Please do not request accommodations directly from your KIIS Program Director or other KIIS Faculty; the KIIS Office will notify your KIIS Program Director and/or Faculty after we have received your above accommodation letter.

In some cases, you may need to make arrangements for a caregiver to join you on your KIIS program, should your physician, campus disability accommodation office, or KIIS make such a recommendation or require it.

Title IX / Discrimination & Harassment:

Recent attention to gender discrimination and sexual harassment at colleges and universities reminds us of the importance of adhering to standards of ethical and professional behavior. KIIS Study Abroad is committed to supporting and encouraging safe and equitable educational environments for our students, faculty, and program directors. Students, faculty, and program directors are required to be civil and treat each other with dignity and respect. As such, harassment and/or discrimination of any kind will not be permitted or tolerated.

Sexual misconduct (sexual harassment, sexual assault, and sexual/dating/domestic violence) and sex discrimination are violations of KIIS policies. If you experience an incident of sex/gender-based discrimination, harassment and/or sexual misconduct, you are encouraged to report it to a) KIIS Assistant Director Maria Canning (+1-859-200-1000) or KIIS Executive Director, John Dizgun (+1-270-227-2288), b) WKU's Title IX Coordinator, Andrea Anderson (270-745-5398 / andrea.anderson@wku.edu) or WKU's Title IX Investigators, Michael Crowe (270-745-5429 / michael.crowe@wku.edu) or Joshua Hayes (270-745-5121 / joshua.hayes@wku.edu). Please note that while you may report an incident of sex/gender based discrimination, harassment and/or sexual misconduct to a KIIS program director and/or faculty member, KIIS program directors and faculty are considered "Responsible Employees" of Western Kentucky University and MUST report what you share to WKU's Title IX Coordinator or Title IX Investigator.

If you would like to speak with someone who may be able to afford you confidentiality, you may contact WKU's Counseling and Testing Center, <https://www.wku.edu/heretohelp/> at 270-745-3159.

For more information on KIIS Title IX, see <https://www.kiis.org/students/health-safety/title-ix-clery/>; additional Title IX resources can be found here <https://www.wku.edu/eoo/brochure2019update.pdf>.

Everyone should be able to participate on a KIIS program, attend a KIIS event, or work in a KIIS environment (e.g. KIIS office) without fear of sexual harassment or discrimination of any kind. Be respectful of each other.
