KIIS Maya Mexico Winter 2023-2024

HON 300 Topics: Cultural Expression in Modern Mexico (3 credits)
December 26, 2023 – January 7, 2024

Instructor: Dr. John Dizgun
Email: john.dizgun@wku.edu
Syllabus subject to change

Course Description
This study abroad course, designed for students coming from all majors, asks, how can we better understand contemporary Mexico by identifying and analyzing diverse forms of Mexican cultural expression, past and present. Sources of cultural expression include (but are not limited to) artwork, music, museums, media, sporting events, archaeological and religious sites, graffiti, food and fashion. Individually and as a group, we deconstruct the nuanced meaning, motivation, and potential influence such expression has on Mexican national identity, which, much like that of the United States, is rarely singular or static. Open to Honors and non-Honors students with a 3.2 GPA or higher. This course is taught in English.

KIIS Study Abroad Mission Statement:
KIIS provides high-quality education abroad programs for students from all diverse backgrounds that promote deep international learning, are integrated into the curriculum, and encourage critical and creative thinking. Our goal is to help students understand the wider world and develop personal and professional skills for lifelong enrichment. We strive to go beyond generalizations and cultural stereotypes to help foster a nuanced appreciation of the world in which we live.

Students participating on KIIS study abroad programs aim to:
1) Understand contemporary issues of their host country/countries (i.e. KIIS program location).
2) Develop skills to interact comfortably in a global setting.
3) Understand other cultures.
Prior to your KIIS study abroad program, and again at the conclusion of your program, KIIS will ask each student to a) answer a few multiple-choice questions, and b) write a short reflective essay (two paragraphs in length) related to the elements detailed above. There is no right or wrong answer, and your responses will not affect your grade in any way. The purpose of the exercise is to help KIIS measure the effectiveness of its study abroad programs.

Academic Model

We employ a “Place as Text” teaching methodology, which inserts students into social environments and fosters close observation of the local culture. We make use of five basic learning strategies: mapping, observing, listening, discussing, and reflecting. A central goal is for students to take an active role in the direction of their learning by:

- self-selecting topics and readings (from among a selection provided by the instructor) that most interest them
- dedicating themselves to become “student-experts” in the chosen field
- participating in small group excursions that (safely) place them in culturally uncomfortable situations
- regularly synthesizing readings and on-site observations
- in pairs, leading a seminar-style oral presentation

Throughout the program, students develop an understanding of Mexican society, past and present. In the process, they also learn to work effectively in small groups, improve their oral presentation and analytical skills, and develop a heightened sense of confidence and leadership.

Student Learning Outcomes

After completing this course, students should be able to:

- Identify and explain five transformative moments in Mexican history
- Gain an understanding of how Mexican history and culture have been, and continue to be, expressed in art, media, museums, food, rituals, public spaces, and politics.
- Relate topics in Mexican history to current events
- Compare and reflect upon notions held about Mexico before and ideas developed during the study abroad program
- Work effectively in small groups and improve oral presentation skills
- Analyze and synthesize readings, observations and class discussions in short written papers

Program Calendar Snapshot

During this winter study abroad, we spend four days in Mexico City and eight days in the Yucatan Peninsula. In Mexico City, academic excursions include the Zocalo and Historic Center, the original artwork of Diego Rivera and Frida Kahlo, the National Anthropological Museum, the city’s rich markets and diverse neighborhoods, the famous temples of Teotihuacan, and, hopefully, a sporting event. In the Yucatan, we explore the spectacular Mayan archaeological sites of Chichen Itza and Uxmal, the vibrant markets & neighborhoods of Merida, off-the-beaten-path pueblos, and a Mayan cenote (natural swimming pool). The program concludes in the beach town of Playa del Carmen with student final oral presentations and a culminating program seminar-style debriefing. Throughout, we employ a “Place as Text” learning model, which inserts students into social environments and fosters close observation of local culture. Note: items above are subject to change. See the KIIS Maya Mexico Winter webpage (https://www.kiis.org/programs/maya-mexico-winter/) for a more detailed program calendar.

Assignments

Students begin their academic preparation for this study abroad program at the pre-departure KIIS student orientation on November 4, 2023 (in Elizabethtown, KY). First, professors familiarize students with the Place as Text model (described above). Second, we discuss notions students hold about Mexico and begin to develop a (deeper) understanding of Mexican history and culture. Third, in groups of two, students self-select one of the following topics, which ultimately will serve as the basis for their on-site final oral presentation:

1. The relationship between the Mexican past and present
2. Political and cultural messaging in Mexican society
3. Race, class and/or gender in contemporary Mexico
4. Innovation and heritage in Mexican society
5. The benefits and drawbacks of tourism in Mexican society
6. Food and culture in Mexican society
7. Street activity in Mexican society
8. The legacy of Diego Rivera and/or Frida Kahlo (or any of great Mexican muralists)
9. The presence and role of religion in Mexican society
10. “Portraits” of three Mexicans (on-site oral interviews with three locals)
11. U.S.-Mexico Relations

A. Pre-Departure Writing Assignment & Program Participation – 10%

In early-December, students will be provided two questions, one on our common reading (Opening Mexico, see below) and one on our common film ("Roma"). Each student will write a 1-page response to each question (meaning, two 1-page responses) and submit them by email by December 24 at noon.

B. WhatsApp Written Reflections (on-site) – 30%

Regularly over the course of our study abroad in Mexico (e.g. ahead of select museum visits, archeological site visits, and other on-site excursions/learning activities), students will be asked to respond to a series of WhatsApp questions or prompts. Student reflections will vary in length from one sentence to one page.

C. Pre-Presentation Written Outline (on-site) – 15%

In the days ahead of their final oral presentation (to occur on the morning of January 6 in Playa del Carmen), students will prepare a detailed written outline on their self-selected presentation theme (from among those listed above). Students will meet with the professor on-site to discuss their outline, receive feedback, and ultimately submit their written outline (one per group) on the day of their final oral presentation. The purpose of the written outline is to help students best prepare for their final oral presentation.

D. Oral Presentation (on-site at program’s end) – 30%
Individually or in groups of two (formed at the November pre-departure student orientation), students come to craft and lead an oral presentation to the class at program’s end (i.e. January 6 in Playa del Carmen), which will last 30-40 minutes. The oral presentation combines preliminary pre-departure student investigations (i.e. familiarizing themselves with their chosen topic), common and self-selected readings, and on-site observations and reflections. Approximately 2-3 days prior to the January 6th final oral presentations, each group will meet with the professor to discuss your preparations, including a) your central argument/thesis, b) presentation sub-elements/points aimed at developing your central argument, c) how you intend to organize your presentation, c) the readings you have selected, and d) the ideas and questions you have formulated to help generate some class discussion. The professor will provide each group oral feedback during preparatory meeting to help students improve/tweak their outline and upcoming presentation. Students should not plan to rely on PowerPoint, Prezi or the like.

E. Final Reflection – 15%
At program’s end, students will answer one final question that asks them to reflect on their Mexico intellectual and cultural experience.

Attendance Policy
KIIS program participants are expected to be punctual to and in attendance at all classes, presentations, meetings and required excursions, and to remain with the program for the full academic period. Unexcused absences from classes and/or mandatory meetings will result in a lowering of the student’s final grade, as will excessive tardiness. Multiple unexcused absences could result in expulsion from the program. Any absence from an academic class session must be excused for medical reasons.

Academic Honesty Policy
Cheating, plagiarism (submitting another person’s material as one’s own), or doing work for another person which will receive academic credit are all impermissible. This includes the use of unauthorized books, notebooks, or other sources in order to secure or give help during an examination, the unauthorized copying of examinations, assignments, reports, term papers, or the presentation of unacknowledged material as if it were the student’s own work. Disciplinary action may be taken beyond the academic discipline administered by the faculty member who teaches the course in which the cheating took place.

Disability Accommodation
KIIS will make every reasonable effort to provide accommodations for program participants with special needs or disabilities, but we cannot guarantee that we will be able to do so. Be aware that many foreign countries do not have comprehensive legislation comparable to the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). As a result, businesses and other establishments operating in foreign countries may not be able to provide accommodations.

If you have a disability accommodation need, we recommend you contact your KIIS Campus Representative, https://www.kiis.org/about-kiis/contact-us/campus-representatives/ early in your program selection process so that s/he has time to discuss any specific needs, including which KIIS programs may be best suited. You also are welcome to contact KIIS Assistant Director, Maria Canning, maria.canning@wku.edu, to discuss your disability accommodation needs (e.g. housing, transportation, excursions, class schedule, etc.).

Immediately after acceptance, notify KIIS Assistant Director, Maria Canning, or KIIS Office Manager, Haley McTaggart, haley.mctaggart@wku.edu, if you have a special need or disability that might require any form of accommodation abroad. Failure to notify KIIS may prevent you from participating on your KIIS program.

If you require any accommodations abroad, you must provide KIIS Assistant Director, Maria Canning, or KIIS Office Manager, Haley McTaggart, an accommodation letter from your home campus’ disability accommodation office that lists the accommodations you are eligible to receive. Please do not request accommodations directly from your KIIS Program Director or other KIIS Faculty; the KIIS Office will notify your KIIS Program Director and/or Faculty after we have received your above accommodation letter.

In some cases, you may need to make arrangements for a caregiver to join you on your KIIS program, should your physician, campus disability accommodation office, or KIIS make such a recommendation or require it.
